in a luncheonette which is located next door to the Trylon Theater, Queens Boulevard, Queens, NY. Informant said in this connection two young Jewish gamblers had become indebted to [ ] for $5000, which money they did not have and after [ ] had threatened to break their legs, both had run away and were afraid to go home.

Informant said that through a mutual friend these two gamblers were able to get GREGORY SCARPA, an LCN member in the COLOMBO "family", to intercede in an attempt to settle this debt for a lesser amount. Informant said thereafter SCARPA and three of his muscle men went to the above luncheonette, there spoke with [ ] the luncheonette, and [ ] and offered to settle this debt for 25¢ on the dollar. [ ] became enraged and said he would sooner kill these welchers and get nothing rather than settle for $250.

NY 3461-C-TE related SCARPA and his henchmen thereafter threatened to kill [ ] and to burn the luncheonette if harm came to either of the gamblers, stating that he would instruct them to go home that night and to have no fear that harm would befall them. They thereafter discontinued the meeting and on the following day, VINCENT FOCERI, a LUCHESE "caporegima", allegedly contacted one of SCARPA's henchmen and arranged for a meeting between SCARPA and himself in East Harlem later that day.

Informant said that apparently SCARPA did not attend this meeting and FOCERI personally went to see JOSEPH COLOMBO. At this time FOCERI related to COLOMBO what had occurred and that FOCERI desired that SCARPA attend a "sitdown" and that COLOMBO also attend this meeting. COLOMBO allegedly declined this offer, stating that "SCARPA speaks for me" and did not require his presence. On the following night a "sitdown" was held at Rafael's Restaurant on Roosevelt Avenue in Corona, which was attended by VINNIE FOCERI [ ] (NY 92-1866), a LUCHESE "soldier", [ ] a LUCHESE "soldier" under JOSEPH LUCHESE, as well as JOSEPH LUCHESE (NY 92-2753), GREGORY SCARPA, and [ ]

At this "sitdown", VINNIE FOCERI expressed astonishment that SCARPA would threaten [ ] to which SCARPA allegedly related that he had "no idea that [ ]

At this "sitdown" SCARPA volunteered to pay half of the amount owed which all considered fair except [ ] who apparently was a large money maker for the LUCHESE "family" and who was allowed to make the final negative determination. Informant said that SCARPA then related that he was merely trying to help, that he was getting nothing for his efforts, and that he would completely divorce himself from the situation and that [ ] could do as he pleased. At this point, the "sitdown" ended amiably all around.

On the following day, however, [ ] and JOSEPH LUCHESE contacted SCARPA at which time [ ] confessed he was being overly stubborn and that he now realized that the 50¢ offer was generous and he would accept it. The gamblers thereafter paid this money directly to [ ]

The above information is not being reported in the details to avoid any possibility of compromising informant.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Date 6/13/72

GREGORY SCARPA was interviewed in the vicinity of S and S Discount Store, 7506 13th Avenue, Brooklyn.

GREGORY SCARPA advised he resides at 43 Marscher Place, Staten Island, New York, and is self-employed with G.M. Sales Company, same address.

Mr. SCARPA was queried concerning the apparent gang war killings which have taken place recently possibly between the GALLO and COLOMBO factions. He stated he is employed full time, knows nothing about these killings and has no time to become involved in any illegal activity. SCARPA stated when something like this happens, automatically people blame the Italians, and, this is one reason why the Italian-American Civil Rights League was formed. He pointed out the good work the Italian-American Civil Rights League is doing, such as Camp Unity for neglected children.

SCARPA refused to discuss any member or activities connected with organized crime, stating the whole idea of organized crime is a "dream" concocted by the press and film industry.
